Swap Meet sales are good this year; Tech Committee will evaluate

By Robin Will

Portland Swap Meet unfolded on April 5-6-7 of this year, and Cascade Pacific Plymouth Club was there.

We sold used parts, recruited new members, and chatted with dozens – if not hundreds – of Plymouth owners who stopped by the booth to talk about their cars.

Financially, the meet turned out well. Almost $1450 found its way into the CPPC till, which is close to last year's result and better than the years immediately previous. As usual, we paid next year's booth rent out of that total, and at press time we hadn't calculated what we owe members for items that were consigned. A final figure isn't available, but the event will provide a healthy boost to the CPPC treasury.

CPPC's Tech Committee put lots of labor into this year's event. The gentlemen spent several meetings in Gary Rusher's barn, sorting, pricing, cleaning and tagging marketable items – and recycling things which hadn't sold for years and years.

Tech Committee members bought some of the items before they ever got to the Swap Meet, and Gary Rusher sold $100 worth of stuff out of his pick-up at the March CPPC meeting, so the till made a strong start.

We had reserved four spaces for this year. Mike Bade had also reserved a booth for his photography, but wasn't able to attend the meet, so the Club absorbed that space as well. As a result, nothing lurked in boxes this year: we had our entire inventory on the tables.

Marlo Edman's kiosk once again put the Plymouth logo higher than anything else in the exhibit hall, and made a great display area for membership materials.

Three new members joined the club, and three members renewed at the meet.

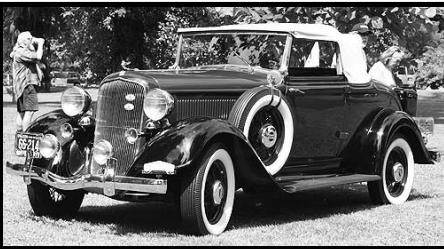

As usual, the Tech Committee asks the question, "Was it worth the effort?" A lot of club hours go into inventory, setup, staffing, and teardown at the end of the meet.

The answer involves a lot of "ifs:" if the club continues to get donations of saleable stuff; if enough members are willing to turn out to work; if nobody can figure out an easier way to make money, then we'll mostly likely do something similar next year.

Listen for discussions of strategy at future meetings

Before the rush: the membership kiosk put the Plymouth logo sky-high, and the entire inventory of CPPC "stuff" was arranged neatly on the tabletops. Below: two Tims and two Bobs were among crew helping to move merchandise and answer questions in the booth. Left, Bobby Burden & Tim McCarthy; right, Bob Thiel and Tim Winchell.

The Steering Column, A Message from the President

The Portland Swap Meet appears to have been a success and is now history. Jerry Dixon has done a wonderful job of gleaning a huge list of events that we can pick and choose from. This month starts this busy schedule of events for those hardy enough to take them in. The Woodburn Tulip Festival, on Saturday April 20th is the first and is hosted by the Brost's. I hope to see quite a few member cars there. Those of us who are on the Tech Committee are ready and willing to help those who have cars that need finishing. If you are in this category, please contact Chuck Willis or any member of the Tech Committee. I have noticed that, lately, the Steering Column has taken up a lot of space in the News Letter that could be used by others who wish to contribute their input. Therefore, that's all I have to say other than how nice it is to associate with the really great people who belong to CPPC.

Happy Touring, Bob Westphal

What's Next: Cruise-In season warms up as summer nears

By the time this newsletter is mailed, April will be nearly gone. However, there's still time to plan on the Cherry Blossom Festival in The Dalles on April 27, Saturday. Eastern Oregon CPPC members Ben and Arlene Neumayer recommend it:

"This show is part of our annual Cherry Festival and the show is right downtown on the parade route and an easy walk to all the other festival events and vendors."

Buicks had a lot to do with Plymouth Club founding!

The sight of founding member Lauren Matley at the March, 2013, CPPC meeting, made Bill Call and Larry Catt wax nostalgic. The two men (also founding members) decided to share the story of the Plymouth Club's founding. Larry wrote the story; Bill approves it without reservation!

By Larry Catt

As the CPPC has passed its 10-year mark, newer members may wonder how it began. Essentially, it resulted from an interest in Buicks!

Lauren Matley and Larry Catt were manning Lauren's woodgraining booth at the Portland Swap Meet. Lauren was displaying a Buick dash when Bill Call stopped to talk. He was having a '40 Buick restored in a local shop, and asked for help in assessing progress.

Larry agreed to help and a friendship was formed. Lauren, Larry and Les Conner regularly met for lunch on Fridays in Vancouver and Bill was invited.

At that time, Bill's collection was heavy in Fords, and he often drove one to lunch.

Unfortunately, he often needed help in getting it to run properly for the return trip to Clackamas. Once, Les was unable to correct the problem so it went home on a truck.

Les was driving his '46 Plymouth sedan and suggested Bill drive it so he could experience its performance.

Bill did, and he was hooked and a few were added to his collection (and a few Fords disappeared!).

Bill has been an impressive organizer in his personal and business life, and he decided he wanted to share his love of Plymouths with others. He contacted the national POC and requested the addresses of all members on the West Coast...from BC to Northern California.

He sent them an invitation to join a club dedicated to preserving and enjoying these fine cars. The response was impressive and many joined.

Bill then enlisted his attorney to form a non-profit corporation, with by-laws in accordance with the POC.

We happily became chartered as the Cascade Pacific Plymouth Club, Inc.

May 11, (Saturday) – Portland Transmission Cruise-In (morning); and Papa's Toys, Cornelius, OR (afternoon)

May 18, (Saturday) – Armed Forces Day Hazel Dell Parade of Bands, Vancouver WA (Jerry and Joanne Dixon host.)

This is a great big event in SW Washington, an opportunity to make new friends and to tell people about our club. The Parade officials are especially looking for convertibles along with other specialty cars and trucks. Parades are always fun and we are hoping to have as many CPPC cars as possible at this event. Contact Jerry or Joanne Dixon if you are interested in participating.

Tom & Chuck go to Arizona in a 1933 Plymouth PD

By Robin Will

Remember when Tom Nachand and Chuck Willis announced at a CPPC meeting that they would drive to the National Plymouth Owners Club meet in Pacific Grove, CA, in Tom's 1933 Plymouth PD convertible?

Tom and Chuck are not small men.

They adjourned to the parking lot for a test-fit, and half of CPPC followed them, to see if the two of them could get into the PD and still close the doors.

Well, it worked for the Pacific Grove trip, so the guys set their sights on "Plymouths to Old Pueblo," the 2013 National POC meet in Tucson.

Shortly after the Portland Swap Meet, the two set out.

The pictures on these pages, emailed by CPPC member Mick DeSantis, serve as proof that they made it to Tucson. There they are, big as life, standing by the PD and squinting into the desert sun.

The guys were still on their way home when this newsletter went to press. Early spring travel across the desert in a 1933 automobile, the pair have learned, is not quite the same as Plymouths at the Portland Swap Meet: Below, several club members were watching this solid 1939 Plymouth coupe, on its trailer in the parking lot. It sold for less than asking price, but it did sell. Bottom: Artie Champ, of Longview, had his hot-rod '51 Suburban for sale outside the exhibit hall. No word on whether the car sold, but Artie joined CPPC on Saturday.

a summertime tour along the coast. Contacted by email on April 16, Tom responded, "Now in Carson City. Have weathered a very cold day (temperature in the 20's) with high winds, snow showers, and very poor visibility. Logged 430 miles today. Did not expect it to be like this."

The pair will have pictures of the national meet to share at the April 23 meeting.

Mayflowers investigate tortillas

Suited up in the latest in headgear and ready for their tour, the Mayflowers paused for a picture in their April 12 visit of Don Pancho's Tortilla & Chip factory. In keeping with the Mexican theme, lunch followed, at La Hacienda Real in Keizer.

Who takes pictures for the Mayflowers? Often as not, it's Barb Rice's friend Pat McCarthy, who joins the Mayflower outings and is responsible for a great many of the pics seen here and on the Mayflowers' page on cascadepacifcplymouth.org. Pat prefers to remain behind the camera, but Barb managed to talk her into providing this picture, from the recent visit to "You Can Leave Your Hat On," in Oregon City.

We got four membership renewals, and three new members signed up.

A general discussion of CPPC swap meet future followed, e.g., do we need the same amount of space, do we need more stuff, what kinds of things should we be selling. A suggestion that parts be inventoried and listed for sale on our website was explored. Bob Westphal will discuss this at the membership meeting.

Tim sends his Edsel down the road

Old-Car Fever struck again at Tim McCarthy's house, and although the result is a Brand-X car, it is partly redeemed by creative use of a grille from a 1955 Plymouth. Here's Tim's account: "My newest old car comes from Fort Collins, CO. I traded my '59 Edsel Villager wagon plus some cash for this vintage hot rod. She is a '51 Ford club coupe. The motor is a built up 351 Cleveland, with a standard floor shift toploader 4 speed. The car has been changed to 12 volt. She has period style white tuck n roll interior, frenched '50 Ford tail lights, hot rod bubble extreme fender skirts, a louvered hood, functioning laker pipes, cool pinstriping, and the best part: a 1955 Plymouth grill! So, she does she qualify for a Mopar, or better yet, a Plymouth?"
